Wedding Philosophy

Your wedding will be an expression of both of you. And a special day deserves special care and attention to photographs that will last for generations to come. How you remember your wedding day will depend on choosing the right photographic artist.

We genuinely enjoy helping couples create beautiful images of such a celebration of love. Our pleasure will be in getting to know you so we can capture the style and essence you have created for your wedding day.

Without photographs, moments are easily lost in the exhilarating blur of your wedding day. With one of our heirloom quality hand bound wedding albums you may relive each moment through the years.

We are known for our creativity, sensitivity and superior quality exhibited throughout our work. We take a limited number of weddings each year to provide our couples with the ultimate in creativity and services. Remember, These are not “just pictures” but art work capturing the elegance and beauty of this cherished day.

Simply put, exceptional wedding photography requires the art of capturing the subtle nuances of the wedding and the couple. I graduated with a BFA in Photography from the prestigious Rhode Island School of Design (RISD), and have had my images published Nationally and have won awards for my photography. I photograph weddings throughout New England. While this technical experience is irreplaceable, it is lifeless without the sensitivity to appreciate subtle looks, moments and details that make your day unique

. . . such as the bride clutching her grandmother’s handkerchief with the bouquet, her father patting her hand on his arm just before they start down the aisle, the new husband adjusting the recently placed band on his left ring finger . . . Each moment tells a story. I also take time to get to know you. What are your tastes and preferences? Which images are important to you? What kind of ambiance do you envision for your ceremony and reception? I am aware that this is your day and work unobtrusively to record everything, especially those subtleties that reflect your style and will be your irreplaceable memories.
