Our Photographers:

Ian Masse is a first-year student at Plymouth State University studying photography. Working for The Clock, PSU's Newspaper, as Photo Editor and primary photographer, Ian has gained experience in photo editing as well as irreplaceable experience in photo shoots. Ian is routinely responsible for photos that are published in The Clock, an Associated College Press member. This coupled with his experience as a fine art photographer sets him aside as an up and coming photographer.

Seth Nason is a sophomore at Plymouth State University also studying photography, as well as working for The Clock as a Layout Designer. Seth works weekly on artistic design in the Arts & Entertainment section of the newspaper. Seth also spends a lot of time in the darkroom working on his artistic prints. He has the eye of a photographer but the experience of a college student, and this is what makes him an up and coming photographer.
